

To provide corporate groups with a rich and in-depth experience of Melbourne Heritage, Melbourne Private Tours provides a range of indigenous experiences in partnership with a number of key Melbourne establishments and identities.

Tjanabi Cooking Class

Groups are welcomed to learn about indigenous history and traditional uses of Australian native produce in the kitchen of one of Melbourne's finest restaurant. This hands-on cooking experience with a top chef is intimate and educational. Then, relax in the lounge and indulge in a luscious lunch while overlooking the heart of the city.

Aboriginal Walking Tour

Groups set out on a walking tours that provides them with the opportunity to learn about Melbourne's hidden Indigenous history and experience the expression of this history and heritage in contemporary Melbourne. Walking tours can be led by descendants of the original area tribe.

To the original inhabitants, the Yarra River which flows through Melbourne, was called Birraung — meaning "River of Mists". Your Indigenous guide will use the metaphor of the "River of Mists" to take you back to a time when this area was covered with native grasses, where emu and kangaroo grazed freely. Tours will also include a visit to the Ian Potter Gallery featuring its renowned collection of Australian Indigenous art followed by a walk along the Yarra, and are combined with a gourmet dinner with premium Victorian wines.

Notes

Group sizes vary depending on the experience.

All classes require pre-payment to secure the event.

'Be a part of something different'

melbourne
convention + visitors bureau

2010 - 2011 MEMBER

'We literally gave MPT a budget and they did the rest. Maxxam and all its staff simply got on with our job, achieved our goals and MPT delivered the reward. The use of MPT and their corporate packages provides a win-win for the staff and bottom-line of Maxxam.'

Brad Krauskopf, Director - Maxxam

'Happy to report the Vice President of the largest privately owned company in the world thought Suze & MPT were great, so thank you very much & congratulations.'

Jacquie Bayne, Executive Assistant - Cargill Australia Limited